BARBAGLIA CASE POSTPONED.

Naturalization Fraud Charges

May Be Increased. The trial of John Barbaglia, which was set for yesterday in the United States District Court was portponed until Monday at the request of United States Attorney Dyer. The indictment charges Barbaglia with forging and having in his possession forged naturalization papers. There are six indictments against him.

Other accusations of a serious nature in connection with the procuring of naturalization papers for a large number of Italians are pending against Barbaglia and the continuance was asked by the Government order that these may be brought before the court.

The Federal Grand Jury will make its report to-morrow. Among the indictments it is said there will be additional ones charging naturalization frauds. The trial of John Barbaglia, which was to Diminish Surface Line Death List.

BIG CONTRACT IS CLOSED.

Westinghouse Company Will Provide Appliances, the First Consignment to Be Delivered in Sixty Days.

All Transit Company cars, by a contract closed yesterday, will be equipped with power brakes before the opening of the World's Fair. The contract calls for the manufacture of air brakes, by the Westinghouse Air Brake Company as fast as they can be completed. The first consignment is promised within sixty days. Then the cars, in sections of forty and fifty, will be withdrawn from service while reconstructed with the improvements. In this way it is expected by the Transit officials that the majority of their rolling stock in use will be equipped within six or eight months. The cars now number almost 1,500.

The negotiations were conducted between L. Adreon, local representative of the Westinghouse Company, and the Transit officials, including Murray Carleton, president, and A. B. du Pont, second vice president and general manager. The amount of the contract is not officially made public. It is understood, however, that the deal volves an investment of about $300.000. Speaking of the matter yesterday afternoon, Mr. du Pont stated that when the air brakes are installed. St. Louis will be the first city in the Union in which all surface cars are equipped with power brakes of so modern a pattern.

"For some time," said he, "we have been experimenting with various brakes. Numbers of our cars have been equipped with different apparatus. We became convinced that the storage air brake was the most efficient, and reported the result of our investigations to the Board of Public Improvements. The board approved our choice only a week ago. We lost no time in obtaining bids and letting the contract. All practical haste will be made to place them in the cars and at the service of the public."

The brakes are similar to those in use on the new Suburban cars. So far as their operation by the motorman is concerned they are the same, but their further construction differs in details. The compressed air with which to work them will be supplied from forty compressor plants to be erected in as many locations in the city.

The compressors will be of the Ingersolloon, Mr. du Pont stated that when the ne compressors. Both the Transit officials and Mr. Adreon

Both the Transit officials and Mr. Adreon, when seen yesterday afternoon, seemed more than pleased at the agreement reached over this question. It is the climax of a year or more of bickering between the city and the Transit lines over the brake question. An ordinance was passed compelling some action.

The time limit named in the ordinance expired with the cars still unequipped. The explanation by the Transit officers was that such a step could not be taken without a thorough investigation of the efficiency of the various patent power brakes.

Messrs. Adreon and du Pont expressed themselves as confident that the change will greatly improve the local street-car service. They expect, also, that the list of accidents and deaths, due to the cars, will at once diminish.

Missouri's Assistant Managers Said to Have Advertised a Railroad in Educational Convention Circular.

Because they mentioned the name a particular railroad in one of their official circulars, five principals in the St. Louis public schools have been asked to resign as assitant managers of the National Educational Association. The principals

E. D. Luckey of the John Marshall Echool, Charles G. Rothmann of the Garfield School, W. J. Hawkins of the Co-lumbia School, A. R. Morgan of the Sherman School and Peter Herzog of the Blair School.

The National Educational Association will hold its annual meeting in Boston July 6 to 10. These meetings are always attended by thousands of school teachers from all parts of the United States. To insure a large attendance Irwin Shepard, secretary of the National Association, names a manager for each State, who, in turn, appoints assistant managers.

Ben Blewett, assistant superintendent of the St. Louis schools, was appointed manager of the National Educational Association for Missouri, and the gentlemen who have been asked to resign were members of the St. Louis board of assistant managers. The board has six members, W. P. Collins of the Chouteau School not having affixed his signature to the circular, and is, therefore, still an assistant manager.

ing affixed his signature to the circular, and is, therefore, still an assistant manager.

When the assistant managers were appointed it is claimed that they received particular instructions not to boom the interests of any one railroad relative to the trip to Boston.

The St. Louis assistant managers in a circular recently issued gave the plan of the national meeting and closed with a statement relative to the railroad that the five officials intended to use on their journey to Boston.

The merits of this railroad as to train equipment, scenery and running time were extolled.

State Manager Blewett, upon seeing the circular, immediately notified Irwin Shepard, the national secretary, who telegraphed to Mr. Blewett yesterday saying that the withdrawal or resignations of the five principals was absolutely necessary.

Several railroads offer good passenger service between St. Louis and Boston, and it was decided long ago that the National Educational Association could not afford to adopt one railroad as the "official route," Experiences in past years has shown that this was an unwise policy, so Mr. Blewett says.

He was fined $50 by Police Judge Anderson, but appealed the case to the Clayton Circuit Court.

Yesterday an agreed statement of facts was filed in the Circuit Clerk's office, in which the record of the Police Judge and the town ordinance were admitted to be correct. The company, however, insists that the town is powerless to tax it because it got its franchise from the St. Louis County Court before the present town was incorporated, and that the enforcement of the ordinance is in violation of a constitutional right.

The ordinance was passed a little over a year ago, just after the town had engaged in a controversy with the railroad company over its alleged inadequate facilities.
